Campus Events

In March the department of geography will be hosts, for the first time, for the annual general meeting of the western division of the Canadian Association of Geographers. The meeting, to be held Saturday, March 22, will have as its theme "The Geographer and Society."

Geographers galore will be visiting the campus during the first few days of March, to give several special lectures that were not confirmed before press time for the Newsletter's calendar side. On Monday, March 3, Dr. J. E. Spencer of U.C.L.A. will speak on "Man and Environment in Thailand" and "Tradition and Change in Philippine Agriculture" to third-year classes. On the same day, Dr. Leslie King of Ohio State University will lead a colloquium on "Spatial Dimensions of Urban Economic Growth" in Cornett 145, starting at 3:30 p.m. J. H. Parker, deputy commissioner of the Northwest Territories, will speak on "The Challenge of the North" Monday at 12:30, in Cornett 112. Dr. Spencer will give a public lecture on Southeast Asia Tuesday at 12:30, also in Cornett 112.

Another latecoming notice -- from the AMS -- announces a concert of folk and traditional music to be given in the SUB this Tuesday at 12:30. The performers, Jim Johnson and Harry Aoki, have entitled the hour "The Moods of Man."

A course this weekend on the emotionally disturbed adolescent, sponsored by the evening division and the district education committee of the B. C. Registered Nurses Association, will open its doors to the public Saturday evening. Dr. John T. Wood, psychiatrist at Victoria's Mental Health Centre, will lead discussions of problems of adolescence and how to treat them. Among those taking part will be DR. GORDON HOBSON (psychology). The session starts at 8:00 p.m. in MacLaurin 144. There is a nominal admission fee.

Campus Events

The University choral society, conducted by CHARLES PALMER (music), will present Rossini's Petite Messe Solennelle at 8:00 p.m. Wednesday, March 5, in St. John's Anglican Church, 1611 Quadra. Colleagues taking part are ROGER BRAY, tenor, and GERALD HENDRIE, piano. Other soloists include soprano Ruth Champion and tenor Peter Yelland.

Plans for an evening of one-act plays by members of the English department have been postponed and expanded. Four productions will now be staged from March 13 to 15. They are The Author by PROFESSOR ROBIN SKELTON, Innisfree by LAWRENCE RUSSELL, a Zen play adapted from the Japanese by SEAN VIRGO, and Motel, by someone who checked in under an assumed name. The locale will be MacLaurin 144, or possibly the theatre. For further details, call 542.

MRS. PHYLLIS FLAVELLE (alumni office) is beefing up her mailing list for this year's "Beer and Barbecue." Invitations should go out in mid-March. The event will be held March 29 in the new commons block dining room.

Registrar R. J. FERRY urges faculty and staff to ignore the calendar entry for Easter, and to note that the Easter holiday will extend from Good Friday, April 4, through Easter Monday, April 7.

DR. CARY GOULSON (education), chairman of the organizing committee for this year's Humanities and Science Symposium, reports that adjudication of 170 entries from high-school students across the province is now close to completion. Twenty-four students will be chosen to present their papers on a wide variety of topics, with another 50 in attendance as observers. Other members of the committee are DR. JOHN McINERNEY (biology) and DR. JOAN COLDWELL (English). Papers have been screened by representatives of almost every department, in preparation for the symposium April 11 and 12.

Faculty/Staff News

DR. RALPH ALLEN (theatre) will chair a two-day conference during the week-long finals of the Dominion Drama Festival, to be held at Kelowna May 19 to 24. Colleagues taking part are CARL HARE and ROBERT COTHRAN.

A paper on "Communication in Counselling" will be given by DR. R. VANCE PEAVY (education) when the Canadian University Counselling Association meets at the University of Lethbridge in the middle of March.

DR. ALAN GOWANS (art and art history) spoke in Ann Arbor earlier this month, in the American Studies Lectures of the University of Michigan. His subject was "The Comic Strip: Kinetic Lectures of Our Time."

The University of Alberta will present a one-man show of paintings by JOHN DOBEREINER (art and art history) from March 11 to 29.

Following a confrontation with the Vancouver Province, Information Services received a number of copies of reprinted articles on student unrest at Canadian universities, written by Duarte Farquharson of the Southam News Service Ottawa bureau. The material appeared in mainland newspapers in December. Anyone wishing a copy is invited to call local 372.

RICHARD COURTNEY (theatre) described the University's developmental-drama program to the Association of Childhood Education International when it met in Campbell River February 15. The group was established by interested parents and teachers to study the learning process at the pre-school and elementary-school levels.

Election of alternates to the University Review Committee led to the following results: social sciences, DR. D. H. MITCHELL (anthropology and sociology), by acclamation; sciences, DR. J. T. WEAVER (physics).

Faculty/Staff News

DR. ALEX WOOD (bacteriology and biochemistry) has been elected president of the board of governors of St. Joseph's Hospital. Family news this month also included the naming of Dr. Wood's daughter Janet as a "Woodrow Wilson Designate." She was one of four graduating students here to be selected by the Woodrow Wilson Foundation as most worthy of a fellowship for advanced studies.

A study of job-prospects for Indians across the province is now being made under the direction of DAVID STEVENSON (anthropology and sociology). The survey will seek reasons why many Indians encounter difficulties in making the transition to city life. Sponsor is the federal department of manpower and immigration.

J. A. WEBB (campus planning) and A. J. SAUNDERS (buildings and grounds) were the hosts at a two-day meeting of physical-plant administrators from Western universities February 27 and 28. In attendance were 27 members of the national association, from 11 universities, and ACTING PRESIDENT R. T. WALLACE and WILLARD E. IRELAND, chairman of the board of governors.

DR. S. A. RYCE (chemistry) has accepted an invitation to speak this summer at the University of Würzburg, of Munich, and at the Max Planck Institute for Nuclear and Radiochemistry Research at Mainz. He will present the findings of research on the effect of polarization in nuclear fission.

Dr. H. M. Frey, an internationally known authority in chemical kinetics from Britain's University of Reading, will join the chemistry department in mid-March as visiting professor. During his month's stay, he will lecture to senior students and consult with faculty on their research. Dr. Frey will also give a series of evening lectures on recent developments in gas-phase kinetics, photochemistry, fast reactions, and flash photolysis.

DR. R. N. O'BRIEN (chemistry) has received a grant of $4,300 from the inland waters division of the department of energy, mines and resources, to aid research on diffusion of gases into aqueous solution. Graduate work on oxygen solutions in water, an important topic in pollution studies, is already being carried out under Dr. O'Brien's direction.
